New website designer: currently building discounted websites for experience and to add to my portfolio. I have several websites on the internet that I created before attending Bates Technical College. My graduation with an Associate of Arts degree is due July 2008.

Proficient in HTML mark-up, CSS style sheets, image editing, MS Word, and copy writing. Working on skills in the following areas: Java, C++, Javascript, PHP, SEO, RSS, Excel, and Ruby on Rails.

Design tools I use are: Dreamweaver, Photoshop, MS NotePad, Ace HTML Freeware, Adobe Acrobat, and Sun Java VM.

Self-Confident

Self-confident, secure and calm. Able to take life's troubles in stride and be relaxed, resilient and self-satisfied, even in situations which are demanding. Aggressive in stressful situations where poise and confidence are needed for trustworthiness and success.

Innovative

Open-minded, imaginative and curious. Comfortable in roles which enable trying out novel approaches, ideas and methods. Tend to avoid environments, which are highly routine or bureaucratic, as they depend upon individuals who prefer to stick to well-established rules and procedures.

Dominant

Naturally inclined to be highly outgoing, assertive and sociable. No difficulty in situations requiring self-expression, able work with others and function in-group settings. Willing to take dominant or lead position in most any situation. Resultantly, tends to seek out situations in to relate with and influence others.

Valued problem solver, dealing with inventive solutions. My previous career involved accommodating homeowners' design interests with their improvement purchase, coordinating sales objectives of building companies with customers' personalities. Use of woodworking tools to design and create tenant improvements, home improvements and new construction, most of my work required artistic abilities.

Independent, truthful, and good with Human Relations, I easily gain trust of my employer and his clients. As my career as a carpenter, I installed cabinetry; trim work & hardware in homes & businesses. Job tasks were accomplished by visualizing the end result, compiling procedures, imagining extraneous situations and working through the process.

Disciplined, conscientious, and determined to satisfy both customers and employers, I tend to place my decision for performance on customer satisfaction. Although most of my work was based on timely completion, which was usually above expectations, my finished product needed to reflect my reputation as an artist.
